Set in lovingly maintained grounds – your tranquil and private oasis awaits. The cottage and studio have both had some renovations particularly to the kitchen and bathroom. Each upgrade has faithfully remained in line with the rustic styles of the era. It's super liveable but there is still plenty of scope for the next owner to take the improvements to the cottage to the next level.

Wake each morning to the tuneful sounds of Whipbirds and Bellbirds, relax in sunny gardens with a book by day, or wind down by night in front of the wood heater or firepit. This home is all about work-life balance, offering a comfortable home nicely separated from the 2 room studio. The current owner runs a mentoring business from home but the space is equally suited to an art studio or gallery. A little extra tweaking to add a kitchenette and bathroom and this space could double as guest quarters.

With good exposure to those passing on their way to the Chenrezig Buddhist Institute, there are strong possibilities for similarly aligned business or accommodation potentials. There is undercover parking for 2 vehicles at the studio and room for further vehicles both on site and off the road at the front of the property.

Just in case there is not enough lifestyle to entice you yet, you are just 20 minutes from the other Hinterland villages, eateries, walks, markets, shopping and medical facilities. There is ample rainwater on site and fabulous volcanic soils make for wonderful sustainable home gardens. Far from the sterility of the suburbs, this property is all about heart and soul, come see for yourself but don't expect the ordinary.

As a business is currently being run from the property we will not be hosting open inspections, we invite you to make an appointment for your private viewing.
