Dual living

Perfect for a multi-generational family home, live in one side and use the other for your teenagers, adult kids, the in laws or the Grandparents. Just pick your favourites!

This home has been purpose built as two detached self-contained 2 bedroom pods. It represents a rare opportunity to live in one side and rent the other where the estimated income of $360-$400 per week might just cover your mortgage payment.

- Configured as one split-level home on a single title
- Each pod has 2 bedrooms, a living room and bathroom
- Kitchen/kitchenette with laundry facilities
- Very central, just 1km to shopping centres, hospital and transport hubs
- Separately metered water and electricity, individual gas hot water
- Not able to be rented to 2 separate tenants in its current configuration
- A unique opportunity to add some value – Must be sold!

It's so hard to get into the housing market in the current high demand environment, with prices threatening to move beyond some home buyer's means. A shared living home may be just the solution you are looking for. Maybe parents living on one side and adult kids on the other, together but with some privacy and separation. Maybe live on
