The lovely high ceilings, lots of windows and the wide French doors create an open living zone with easily integrates the inside with the spacious timber deck. There is a very "Zen" aura to the whole house, welcoming, calm and surrounded by nature.

One truly appealing standout, is the separate master suite with a whole of wall picture window bringing the bush backdrop right into the room. The open dressing room and stylish ensuite are complimented by a study or reading nook which also serves as a private division between this suite and the remainder of the house. Your own private escape.

The sloping bush block has been mostly cleared with a range of ferns, bromeliads and palms providing a pretty outlook, there is a cleared space for veggies, maybe even following a permaculture model. It's just 4 minutes to the heart of Nambour with its shopping, train and bus depot, medical facilities, dining, cinemas and all the necessities, yet the house feels far away from the hustle and bustle.

The lower level of the house can be accessed either by stairs from the end of the deck or via a separate side entry. On this level you will find the laundry, and a sealed and lined space ideal for a studio, workshop or hideaway, complete with its own separate shower, toilet and vanity. There is also additional sub floor storage.

If light, bright and airy is your style, you'll feel right at home in this very appealing home, but come and see for yourself at one of our scheduled open homes or call the Agent for a private inspection.
